Strategic Meeting on the Development of the Green Energy Complex City

On May 20, 2025, a high-level meeting took place at the Royal Thai Navy Headquarters in Bangkok, hosted at the RTN Eastern Economic Corridor (RTN EEC) office. The meeting marked a significant milestone in the planning of Thailand's pioneering Green Energy Complex City.

The investment project is a joint effort between the Royal Thai Navy, Thailand's Terddumri Company Limited, and the international joint venture COINVOLTA S.A. from Switzerland and Germany. Together, the partners aim to develop a large-scale sustainable energy complex within the framework of the Eastern Economic Corridor (EEC) – combining innovation, environmental responsibility, and long-term economic growth.

The meeting was presided over by Admiral Suchat Thumpitakwetch, Special Advisor to the Royal Thai Navy and Chairman of the Eastern Economic Corridor Administration Committee. Key strategic directions and next steps for the joint venture were discussed and aligned.

This collaboration reflects the strong synergy between government institutions and international business partners – working together to position Thailand as a leader in green energy and future-oriented urban development in Southeast Asia.
